How is the grit removed?
After passing through the bar screens, the grit (stones, sand and soil) is removed in the grit chamber. Here the water slows down slightly, allowing the heavy grit to sink to the bottom.

What happens to the grit?
The grit is taken to a landfill and buried.

Why is grit removed?
The grit could damage pumps, pipes and tanks in the rest of the works.